Only Four Old Riembers in the Aggregation — Peter Maher and Gus Ruhlin Meet in Philadelphia To-night—Entries for Chevy Chase Hunt Steeplechase.

The members of the Boston National League team will report in this city to-day to Manager Buckenberger at the Hotel Marirough. Of the team that made Boston a factor in the pennant race two years ago only Herman Long, Billy Hamilton, Fred only Herman Long, Billy Hamilton, Fred Tenney and Victor Willis remain. The rest of the players consist of promising collegians and minor leaguers. Collins, Stahl, Freeman, Clarke, Dineen and Sullivan are with the American League. Lewis is an instructor at Columbia University. Lowe is with the Chicago Nationals and the noted Kid Nichols is part cover of the Kansas City Club, with s part owner of the Kansas City Club, with which he will play this year. Frank Selee, who managed the Bostons from 1890 up to the end of last season, and in that time succeeded in winning four pennants, is the man-ager of the Chicagos. Buckenberger, his successor, is a veteran at the managerial game and has handled many successful teams. He managed the champion Rochesters of the Eastern League last season. The Bostons will train at Thomasville, Ga., for the Peter Maher and Gus Ruhlin are on the bills to fight six rounds at Philadelphia to-night. If these big fellows mix things on the level there should be an interesting spectacle. In a twenty-round fight in this city several years ago they indulged in what been termed the most sensational battle between heavyweights ever seen in an Eastern ring. Maher had both eyes closed and was severely bruised about the body, yet he was able to get a draw. Ruhlin has been training with Fitzeimmons lately and is in good condition.

"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien will not fight Joe Walcott until after he has fulfilled the articles of agreement to meet Tommy Ryan or any other middleweight in Louisville. Ryan has agreed to fight Johnny Gorman of this city in England and may not meet O'Brien at all. In that case Walcott is likely to take Ryan's place in the proposed match with O'Brien at Louisville. O'Brien, since his arrival here from England, has not met a first-class man, baring Charley McKeever, but has contented himself with slugging lesser lights to his heart's content. When he has measured arms with Ryan or Walcott, ring followers will be able to judge for themselves whether O'Brien possesses championship form or not. The fact that he deliberately dodged Kid McCoy in England, after winning the so-called heavyweight championship of that country, is used as an argument that O'Brien's reputation as a fighter has been decidedly inflated.

The following are the entries for the Chevy Chase Hunt Annual Steeplechase Handicap, to be run at Bennings on March 31: Twilight, Royal Stag, Le Moon, Masterpiece, The Hawk, Hari Kari and Rooster. The horses are to be handicapped by a committee appointed by the master of the Chevy Chase Hunt, minimum weight 145 pounds. They must be ridden by gentlemen approved by the master or stewards of the meeting, or by employees of the hunt, the latter to carry seven pounds extra. The race will be about two miles and a half over the steeple-chase course of the Washington Jockey Club, with the Liverpool jump eliminated.

James R. Keene will build a stable for his raceborses at Sheepshead Bay. Trainer James Rowe has selected a piece of property for the purpose adjoining the stable of A.J. Joyner. Mr. Keene's stable will have forty stalls and work upon it will be hurried so that his horses located at Brookdale Farm can be moved as soon as possible. W. C. Whitney's horses have been removed from Westbury to his stable at Sheepshead Bay, which is located at the head of the chute. Trainer Rogers will begin training those that have recovered from the recent epidemic of influenza at once.

Seth Jacobs, owner of Walkensaw, has het Joe Uliman, who is making a winter book at Hot Springs, $1,000 against $10,000 that his horse will win the Montgomery Handicap. Jacobs has also wagered $150 on Scarlet Lily to win the same race at odds of 20 to 1. He says the latter is the only one he is afraid of.

Catcher James McGuire, who has jumped his Brooklyn club contract, has gone to French Lick Springs with the members of the Detroit American League team. McGuire admits that he signed a Brooklyn contract last fall, but attempts to justify his flop in a statement which contains the following: "I have not accepted a single cent of advance money from the Brooklyn officials and when the new management took hold of the Detroits I concluded to have nothing further to do with Ebbets and Hanlon. I consider that my agreement with Mr. Stallings is binding and that the contract I signed with Brooklyn will not hold in law. In a word, I am doing what I believe is honorable."

BOLT Text of Revised By-Laws Sent Out by the National Association.

A circular containing the by-laws of the United States Golf Association, as revised by the Executive Committee at its meetings of Jan. 31 and Feb. 28, was mailed yesterday of Jan. 31 and Feb. 28, was mailed yesterday to each club in membership by Secretary Maturin Ballou. The by-laws are twenty-seven in number, against thirty formerly, but the only rules dropped entirely have been No. 6, stating the championships must be on the links of an associate club, and 29, which required players belonging to more than one club to declare which club team they would play on as their home team, which has always been a dead rule. The important changes in the sections defining an amateur, the playing and method of pairan amateur, the playing and method of pair ing in the amateur and women's champio ships have been printed in The Sun.

A rule not hitherto announced is section 6, reading:

A rule not hitherto announced is section 6, reading:

The Executive Committee shall determine annually on a system of sectional rotation, the dates and courses on which the amateur, open and women's championship tournaments shall be played; and shall have full charge of the details concerning the same.

While this change was discussed at the annual meeting, it has been understood since that the action was to go over to the special meeting, at which the constitutional changes are to be considered. Unless it is altered at that meeting, or at any regular meeting of the Executive Committee before the annual meeting, the delegates will have no say in the selection of links for the championships. The Executive Committee maintains that it is best qualified to pass on the selection, being limited only by sectional rotation. The committee may choose either the links of an allied or associate club. The by-law, if put to a vote at the annual meeting, it is certain would not have passed and it received little support yesterday among those who received the circular.

"If this new rule, section 6, is approved at the annual meeting," said a very prominent amateur, "it seems to me the presence of delegates at future annual meetings will be wholly of a perfunctory nature and laok of interest in the game will result. It will be observed that nothing is stated definitely respecting the fixed dates and the courses, nor are the territorial limitations defined. Voting in favor of these recommendations, as they stand, would mean investing the Executive Committee with absolute power to run the whole show. Is that wise? I believe some fixed principle governing championahip venues should be instituted, but I think the selection of links should be left to the delegates."

Rule 5 gives to an amateur disqualified for charges under rule 7 the right of refinstatement on presenting evidence of meriting it.

DICKERING OVER TERMS. Fits Willing to Fight at Los Angeles, but hear from you at noon to-day.

Following this message came a wire from the Boilermaker stating that he (Jeffries) favored the bid and would fight there.

After perusing these messages carefully Fitz sent word that the terms of the club suited him and that he would consider the match clinched as far as the club is concerned, provided he is assured of a guaranteed purse of $25,000. He also asked that the price of the admission and the distribution of complimentary tickets be mutually agreed upon.

complimentary tickets be mutually agreed upon.

Fitzsimmons and his friends thought that matters were surely clinched until he received the two following despatches last night:
Club will not give 75 per cent. and also guarantes $25,000. Danger of club withdrawing their offer altogether. I prefer the 75 per cent. Answer immediately.
Our proposition is a purse of $25,000 and no per cent. or 70 per cent. of gross and a $20,000 guarantee. You can take your pick, but we must have an immediate answer. CENTERY A. C.
The Cornishman was very much excited. The Cornishman was very much excited when he not these. He called up his manager, Percy I. Williams, on the telephone and had a talk with him, with the result that Fitz telegraphed the following ultimatum to the Los Angeles folk.

Los Angeles folk:
I stand by my proposition of this morning, which was fair and reasonable. Will not fight at Century Club unless we get a $25,000 guarantee and $5 per cent. Compilmentary telests and prices of seats to be mutually agreed upon. If they are in such a burry to call it off they can do so.

"MAJON" TAYLOR GOING ARROAD. SOCIETY DAY AT THE Crack Cyclist Says He Will Betire After

"Major" Taylor came to New York yester day to renew his registration with the National Oyoling Association prior to his departure for Paris. He will sail next week and probably on the Kaiser Wilbelm der Grosse. In registering Taylor asked to have again the same license number and card that he had last year, which was 15. He still disclaims superstition concerning the unluckiness of the number and believes it to be his mascot. Taylor was in a confidentially communicative mood, when he met a reporter of THE SUN and talked freely of his affairs. The most startling thing he said was that this will be his last year on the track. He said he is now only 24 years old and admitted that he probably would have his speed for a few years longer. When asked his reasons for quit-ting he said: "The strain of continued training is telling on me. I train hard and con-scientiously, you know, and I find it is wearing on my nerves. I had practically two seasons last year. Few appreciate what that means. There was no let up for me. I was in Paris on March 12 and then I came back here and went on the circuit and later rode at indoor meets. I will have pretty much the same thing this year and the strain is too great. Another reason for my quitting is that I want to get out of the game while I am on top and not wait till I begin to fail. I began without a cent. Now I have a house that I own in Worcester and a few thousands in the bank. If I can put a few thousand more away this year I shall be very well satisfied. If I can get a position and earn enough to keep me and my family and not touch the money I have saved I shall be content. Last year when I went to Europe I got a guarantee of $3,000 and had to pay my own expenses. This year I will have all my expenses paid and get $3,000 net to bring back with me. I shall not ride on Sundays."

Bert Hazard is going with Taylor as rubber and assistant. Taylor does not know when he will have his first race abroad and only knows that he is to meet Jacquelin again and also Ellegard, who won the world's championship at Berlin last year. When in Europe last spring Taylor beat Ellegard in four races out of six. Taylor will return to America the last of June to ride on the National circuit here. He will use this year the same American made wheel that he did last year.

That the method of advertising by hiring a orack rider to use their wheels does bring results to American makers was illustrated yesterday when a Japanese merchant who came here to buy a lot of bleycles to ship to the Flowery Kingdom said in the office of a trade paper that he was delighted because he had been able to make his full shipment of the wheel that Major Taylor rides. He said that he had previously decided to choose that make and it was only a question with him of getting as good terms as he could on some others and he had succeeded in doing so. He says they will be hot sellers in Japan because Taylor rides the same make.

Jockey Will Use Pacer and Trotter on English Roads.

well-known American jockey, Danny Maher, has ordered his fast pacer Todd Crooke, 2:10%, and a trotter that he drove at Hartford on the snowpath during the winter, shipped to England on or about April 1. He believes it will benefit his health to do some road driving. Todd Crooke was presented to him by the late William H. Clark during the fall of 1898 and with him Maher has won many brushes at Hartford each winter to a light racing cutter. The well-known turfman E. D. Wiggin, owner of Martha Wilkes, 2:08, when the queen of race trotters, was in the city yesterday en route from Dawson City, where he has been for three or four years, to Washing-ton, D. C. He is now in the Government Secret Service and will shortly return to Alaska. Mr. Wiggin will pay a visit to Pawtucket, R. I., especially to see his old favorite, Martha Wilkes, and her foals before returning to the cold Northwest, as he has a sentimental desire to see the Alcyone Bob Fitzsimmons, acting on Jim Jeffries's caustic telegram, which he received on Wednesday, to the effect that if Fitz dallied further regarding the selection of a site for their proposed contest Jeffries would declare negotiations off, announced early yesterday that he was much in favor of having the mill decided in the Champion's own town. Los Angeles. The Century A. C. of that city is ready to hang up a purse of $25,000 for the fight and yesterday morning the Cornishman received the following telegram from the club's matchmaker:

We offer 75 per cent. of the gross receipts. Jeffries understands local conditions and will accept. Will post $60,000 with any California bank to guarantee good faith. You may select the reference and will try and locate the sort in the bluegrass lands this spring. He says the breeders are more actively engaged along the line of producing high-class saddlers than in a number of years, and the prices at the farm in Kentucky and the entire South are many notches higher than heretofore. The advent of Thomas W. Lawson, C. K. G. Billings and of the content of t competitions has had a salutary effect. The thoroughbred cannot be readily schooled to the saddle and the oid-fashioned Kentucky saddle stock holds its own as the years pass. At the Bull's Head market yesterday it was noticed that prices were on the upward trend for useful workers and the better of the lightactioned sort for delivery work locally and from near-at-hand cities and larger townships.

TO MAKE FRENCH AUTOS HERE. Biggest Manufacturing Concern of Its kind Will Leave France.

This is the plant of the Panhard-Levassor firm, the President of which, M. A. Clement, is now in this city making arrangements for the big deal it is said that the machine as now made in France will be made here, shipped to the other side and simply put together there, the present factories in France to be maintained simply as assembling rooms. The reason assigned for this remarkable move is that the cost of manufacture here will be so much less than in France that the French firm will have an advantage in what is now their home market. advantage in what is now their home market.

J. DEVEREUX RIDES THE WINNER IN "GENTLEMEN'S RACE."

Death Gains a Gallant Victory in the Fligh Stakes - Old Horse Carries 125 Pounds and Beats a Good Picid - Robinson Refuses 85,000 for His Gelding.

New Onleans, March 20.—To-day was society day at the races and the élite of the city was at the Fair Grounds. The feature was the "gentlemen's race," at a mile and 70 yards. The riders drew for their mounts and the race was received. and the race was won by the favorite, Sam Lazarus, with J. Devereux in the saddle, by a scant half length from Chancery.

He never gave his backers any uneasiness, as he was off in front and gailoped all the way, winning easily by two lengths from Maggie Davis, who just lasted long enough to secure the place by a nose from Barbara Frietchie. Considering the time of the race, which was 1:13, and the drumming that Death has received here this winter, his victory was a great one. CHAMPIONSHIP POOL. g, Weston and Koogh Win in the Brook

The twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth gam The twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth games of the pool tournament for the world's championship were played yesterday afternoon at the Montauk Academy in Brooklyn. The programme was Long vs. Walsh and Weston vs. McCune, and the winners were Weston and Long. The standing now of these four players is as follows: Weston—Won, 5; lost, 1. Long—Won, 2; lost, 4. Walsh—Won, 2; lost, 4. McCune—Won, 1; lost, 6. The Long-Walsh game was close and stubbornly contested, with many of the frames pretty evenly divided. Long set the pace, but Walsh went

Weston had a rather easy time with McCune in the other afternoon game. The cowboy expert has set a swift clip since he got his stroke into good working order, and what with smashing the globes into the corners and dropping them into the sides, alternating from force to gentleness, as the shot required, he gave an exhibition that was both varied and entertaining. The score by frames:

The first evening game was between Keogh and Stofft. Keogh was in a fair way to cull a big majority of the balls on the first frame when his cue ball scooted twice across the table after a cut shot which broke the bunch and dropped into the corner pocket. The scratch gave a chance to Stofft and he cleared the table. Keogh got into some bad positions in the second frame trying to break the balls, but clever safety play left nothing for his opponent. He would have taken all fifteen balls but for a miss of an easy chance on the three balls to their holes. Keogh took the lead in the third frame. In the fourth frame Keogh made the score 40 to 19 in his favor. Stofft had a chance in this frame but after a good combination ran foul of a hard luck tie up.

Though the game dragged, Keogh did some scientific playing in the eleventh and twelfth frames. Rare judgment in picking out the balls sent him past the 100-mark and he made a kiss shot that was both intricate and of unique design. The five ball was frozen to the pyramid which was so struck as to kiss it out toward the corner pocket at a slow pace. The cue ball following on kissed the five again and gave it sufficient additional impetus to push it into the pocket. Keogh landed his fourth victory in the fifteenth frame. The score by frames:

Keogh—4, 9, 18, 14, 0,-11, 8, 14, 14, 4, 10, 9, 0, 11, 10, 11, 125. High run, 16.

The second game on Wednesday evening brought William Wenrick of New York, up to a tie for second place with Charles Weston. Wenrick's good playing has been one of the features of the tournament and on Wednesday night he defeated H. P. Stofft. His playing was marked by steadiness, and as usual he was not afraid to take bold chan ces. The score by frames:

Wenrick—6, 11, 3, 4, 13, 4, 8, 10, 12, 14, 6, 5, 6, 0, 13. Total, 125. High run, 27.
